"ART AND GASTRONOMY" SERIES

THE MARVELS OF TIFFANY
Wednesday April 14, 2010

Louis C. Tiffany, Mosaic panel with sulphur-crested cockatoos, about 1908, Haworth Art Gallery, Accrington, England

In order to underline the Louis C. Tiffany's (1848-1933) outstanding contribution to glass design and technology, the Museum of Fine Arts of Montreal wants to share with you its impressive Tiffany stained glass collection specially disassembled, studied and restored for this event. After an exceptional reception in Paris' Luxembourg Museum, it is with great honour that we host Tiffany Glass a Passion for Colour, a Canadian First.

As part of our "Art and Gastronomy" series, we cordially invite you to a conference through which our wonderful director, Nathalie Bondil, will reveal the fabulous story of Tiffany, a master of design, and explain some of his masterpieces.

Afterwards, renowned chef Richard Bastien, will create an exquisite four service lunch accompanied by specially chosen wines for the occasion.

Then, in the afternoon, you will be invited to discover or rediscover the exhibition with an audioguide.

The conference will be held in French.

Sign-up promptly! The number of space is limited.
